Shura meetings provide an opportunity to marginalized communities to express their grievances in front of those, who are caring, listening their voices and supporting them in their miserable times on their doorsteps. It also gives big pleasure to them when respectable individuals of the society and human rights experts working for international commitments pay visit in their slum areas having poor infrastructure.

The main purpose of these meetings with vulnerable community elders and representative is to pay attention to their voices and to be with them in their hazard times of life as well as please them with advice and assistance on their issues on the spot along with taking note of their issues to be discussed on the high level to give them relief. Updated information regarding their concern is also shared with them.

Torkham border crossing: Pakistan curbs Afghan entry

Hundreds of people remain stranded at a key border crossing between Afghanistan and Pakistan after Islamabad imposed stringent new border controls. Afghans now need valid passports and visas to enter Pakistan. Pakistan says the new rules will soon apply at other crossing points too, and aim to limit the movement of militants. The restrictions are likely to affect an estimated 1.5 million Afghan refugees in Pakistan. The long and porous border is a notorious source of tension between the two countries.
